CONSIDER THIS

We have had a great and productive summer this year, and it is encouraging to know how many of our people have been involved in ministering here in Adams County, and all over the state of Wisconsin and around the world. Though personal involvement and through systematic giving, the Church has been spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and the love of the Saints to family, friends, neighbors and strangers, far and wide. While we have encountered what many might consider setbacks, we have seen the Lord turn those instances into opportunities to demonstrate the truths of the Word of God, upon which we stand.

The last three months of the year are filled with new opportunities for witness and ministry. Right now I am working on a new tract for Halloween. I would really like to ignore this holiday, but we will have hundreds of chances to share the Gospel with adults and children who will never darken the door of a church of any kind. There are many other "churched" people who need to know that the enemy of God is the enemy of mankind in general, who has come to steal, kill, and destroy, unless the people of God share what they know to be the Truth. Following that holiday, we have Thanksgiving and Christmas, which provide the exact same opportunities as Halloween. These days have become so secularized that the "average" person, even among professing believers, doesn't know what they are about. We can provide that information.
